

Minutes of Pembroke Log Cabin Quilters

April 18, 2023

1. My apologies... I missed the first 20 minutes of the meeting because Zoom said the host was in another meeting. I left the meeting a few times and re-entered but I continued to get the same message. Faith sent me another link and then I was able to get in. Thirty-five (35) were in attendance in-person and four (4) were in attendance on zoom. Therefore, there were a total of 49 people in attendance.

50/50 Draw - Helen McGregor

Show and Tell Winner: Jackie Searle

2. Presenter for the night was Cathy Vickers. She presented a number of quilts including numerous quilts that have been entered in the Quilt Canada Quilt Show.
3. Mary-Ann requested available reports from the Executive:
  - a) Faith Van Dam (Programme): There is a Sew Day on Saturday. Email Faith if you would like to attend. The cost is \$5. The ruler lady is coming in May. Faith requested that various rulers be available. Faith noted that there will be no zoom next month. There will be an executive meeting to determine if zoom will happen next year. In May's Sew Day, there will be a few people doing barn quilts. Participants who do barn quilts are required to pay \$40 and bring a piece of plywood (12"x12" or 24"x24" and  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch thick) that has been primed on both sides. Faith also stated that June's meeting will include the show and tell of the Charity quilts that have been done as well as a parking lot garage sale. Bring lots of cash and whatever you want to sell!
  - b) Connie Daikin (Library): Connie shared a Cats and Dogs themed book of projects that people can do. She also shared a book entitled, "This is for the Birds" which includes a variety of paper piecing projects.
  - c) Mary Ann asked Rose to put pictures onto the guild website because she feels that it would be nice to see pictures. Apparently, Cathy Fisher does not have good WIFI where she lives and has to wait to upload such pictures when she comes into Petawawa. Cathy Fisher could email it to someone to put on the website.

4. Dawna Steele - Tip of the Month: Dawna encourages us to cut strips of fabric at the end of projects. These strips can be sewn together to be made into nice backgrounds for wall hangings and quilts.
5. Linda Holmwood had a fat quarter to give away. She instructed everyone to record a number between 1 and 50 on the back of the sheet they had for Caroline's game. The winner was Erin Harvey.
6. Caroline Beaulieu - Game Night! Caroline presented a game where everyone received a point if they did not do what Caroline read from a series of twenty statements. Cynthia Bell, the winner of the game, won a fat quarter.
7. The meeting ended sometime after 8:30. The zoom portion of the meeting ended at 8:30 so I was unable to completely watch this meeting.
